FOR THE LAST TIME - I.N Hughes, city post office mail carrier for nearly 21 years, punches the time clock for the last time Saturday morning before leaving on his route. He goes with fond recollections of "Smoky", the dog who accompanied him for many years, and plans to continue working in his carpet business.

City Eyes New Tract Plans

Cameron city council eyed preliminary plans for a new housing development and heard that the Chamber of Commerce will need a new home at a regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Plans for developing a new tract on the Newton property were offered by Harold Riley, Austin insurance executive who is a Cameron resident.

The tract will be called Hefley Estates and will consist of single family residences. Riley also explained that the small lake on the property would remain, with six lots around it.

Mrs. Barbara Smitherman, Chamber manager, told the council the Chamber would have to find a new place by July 1, 1978 , and asked the city to consider location of a new office at Fannin and Third, next to the library. She said that location would be desirable because it would be next to the highway where visitors could easily find it.

Council took the matter under consideration for study.

Edward Demerson again appeared and presented a letter from his attorney asking the city to furnish grade and base work in a subdivision planned by Demerson which was approved in 1973. Demerson said he hoped to get the curb work and paving done in a paving program planned for West Cameron.

Councilmen will meet with him Saturday to view the location and see what has to be done.

A.W. McCullin, CDA director, reviewed progress on the West Cameron paving project and said a town hall meeting for affected residents will be held Monday night at the Action Center.

In other action, council:

--Awarded low bid to Good Refrigeration for $1,835 to install two new air conditioners for the library;

--Approved second reading of an ordinance calling for a public hearing on proposed annexation;-

--Discussed development of the city airpark;

--Voted to purchase an ultra low frequency mosquito spraying machine;

--Approved a mobile home permit on W. 18 1/2 St.

Farmers Market Opens Saturday At Expo Site

Fresh garden vegetables will be available to area customers, and farmers and gardeners will have the opportunity to sell at the Farmers Market Saturday.

The market will be set up in the Youth Exposition Building in Cameron and will be open starting at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Any farmer with produce for sale is invited to come at 8 for his area to be set up in the building. Anyone with a garden who would like to sell excess produce is also invited to bring it down by 8 for selling arrangements.

The Farmers Market is a project of the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, Reeves Brown chairman.

Mom Saves Tot From Drowning

A 3-year old Rockdale area girl was rushed to Scott and White Hospital around 10 a.m. Saturday after she nearly drowned in a stock tank on her parents farm.

She was identified as Audria Prasel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Prasel who live on FM 908 south of Rockdale.

According to Mrs. Prasel, the child walked into the tank while her mother was fishing. The mother revived the child after pulling her from the water and rushed her to Richards Hospital in Rockdale. From there she was transferred to the Temple hospital.

Hearing Set For New R'dale Bank

A hearing on the application for a new bank in Rockdale was scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday before the State Banking Commission in Austin.

One million dollars in capital stock in the proposed Community Bank & Trust was sold in March to approximately 250 persons in the Rockdale area.

ADMIT IT, 118 YOU'RE BAD!!!

Cast me to the pits, but now I am a devil's advocate and a non-progressive, uncivil critic of unparalleled rancor, according to a current letter in Letters, Page 2.

If that means I never won a local McCullin Award, that's true. I really rankle a former staffer and the wife of a CISD school board member, Forrest Sapp.

I am thankful that she reads this tripe. Lois Sapp's letter is forceful. She once wrote an editorial or two for The Herald. At least I think she is among the few who have.

I am sorry to say they are not all well received.

But then, where would the American Revolution have been without Tom Paine?

My greatest failure is in conformity, among numerous others. Or that I can't plumb a basin, wire a socket or level a tennis court. Everybody else works. I just raise hell, of course.

I didn't get past the first round of a recent local tournament either, but neither did fourth-seed Roscoe Tanner in his first-round loss early this week at Wimbledon.

Funniest thing of all is that hundreds of people now play tennis here. And Lois, there weren't 20 active players in this town six years ago, including the schools.

On that we can agree.... And I hope people will read the editorial Fourth Estate, also on Page 2.

118-118-118

What is seldom seen in the struggle with group think, group response, group reward is frequent agreement with the individual among group adversaries when they talk, or write, one at a time.

People usually argue over things like hair length, which was a classic struggle for years in CISD. It was something the young could grow, and the old could grab at when most things like Vietnam and "the bomb" were beyond comprehension.

Everybody for several years had an issue that made sense. It was easy to tell a "hippy" by the length of his hair. It was easy to tell an adult by the neat trim of his hair, if he had any. Of course.

And it never resolved anything. Then long hair was styled and became stylish as shorter hair is becoming. Except for, pardon the expression, numerous tennis players who wear long hair.

After Vietnam, Watergate and the November elections, we are more nearly approaching inquiry into substantive problems.

Which is to say I am not above criticism and neither is anybody else who ventures into the public arena for a shot at improving a few things with some alternative solutions.

Surveillance Reducing City Accidents

Under the city police department's new increased traffic surveillance program, a decrease in accidents is being recorded, according to Police Chief Kent Butler.

The program is being financed by a grant from the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee and provides for an extra 40 hours a week for traffic surveillance in areas where accidents are numerous.

Butler said there has been a noticeable decrease in accidents in those areas since the program started June 1. The grant finances the program for four months.

The police department announced at the beginning of June that more citations would be issued to drivers for violations that could lead to accidents.

County Crops Tour Set Monday

The Milam County Crops tour will be held Monday June 27 and will feature stops that should be of a lot of interest to producers and anyone interested in agriculture.

At the first stop CAMD cotton varieties that should be available to Texas producers in 1979 will be viewed and discussed. These cottons were developed by Dr. Luther Bird and have outstanding yield potential, good quality, and resistance to many major cotton insects.

From there cotton rooot rot control plots will be viewed and discussed. Salt treatments were applied in the early spring to root rot areas. Treatments will be viewed and feasability will be duscussed.

A recirculating sprayer for Johnsongrass will be viewed. This is one of the hottest items in farm machinery.

Corn is making a comeback in the area with new weed control chemicals and new single cross hybrid varieties making corn look like a viable alternative. Corn varieties and weed control will be viewed and discussed.

Grain sorghum variety trials will also be viewed. This is always of interest to the agricultural community.

A schedule of activities follows:

7:45 a.m. - Meet on south side of the courthouse in Cameron or Frank Kratochvil's test plots north of Cameron on Highway 77.

8 a.m. - View cotton varieties on Kratochvil's farm north of Cameron on Highway 77. Varieties developed by Dr. Luther Bird.

8:45 a.m. - Views salt treatments for cotton root rot control on the Joe Mueck farm in the Little River bottom south of Cameron.

9:40 a.m. - Recirculating sprayer in action on cotton field and previosly treated Johnsongrass in cotton on Larry Heine farm. Location is on Farm Road 486 in the Sharp community.

10:45 a.m. - Views grain sorghum and corn varieties on the W.E. Beckhusen farm located in the Little River bottom near Buckholts.

11:30 a.m. - View weed control in corn on the Frank Tomascik farm located on FM 1915 south of Buckholts.

June Sales Tax Rebate Shows 26% Increase

Cameron's June sales tax rebate shows a 26 percent increase over the same period last year, according to figures released by the State Comptroller's Office.

Area towns showed increases ranging from 11 to 34 percent. Statewide, rebates increased 15.1 percnet, Comptroller Bob Bullock said.

The city's June rebate of $17,943 brings the total for the year to $58, 875, compared to $46,587 at the same time in 1976. The rebate for the same period last year was $16,834.

Buckholts showed a 34 percent increase, with a June rebate of $942 bringing the 1977 total to date to $1,687. Last year the June rebate was $775 and total for the year at this time was $1, 245.

Rockdale's increase was 17 percent, with a June rebate of $14,156 bringing the year's total to $46,058. Rosebud showed a 12 percent gain with $4,500 rebated this month and to date total at $14, 992. Rogers' 11 percent increase was the lowest in the area, with a $2,197 rebate adding to the $4,800 total for 1977.

Lott's June refund of $4,935 shows a 26 percent increase over the same time last year and the 1977 total to date is $25,470.

Youth Hurt In Bike-Car Mishap

Dwayne Crouch, 8 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Crouch Jr. of Cameron was treated for lacerations on the head Thursday after his bike collided with a car.

The mishap occured just before 6 p.m. in the 1000 block of North Fannin. Driver of the car was Sheldon Hayes of Cameron. Police Chief Kent Butler termed the accident unavoidable.

369 Registered For Beef Checkoff Vote

A total of 369 cattle producers in Milam County were registered by the Friday deadline to vote in the Beef Research and Information Act referendum next month.

The producers registered at the county ASCS office to vote in the July 5-15 referendum which also will be conducted at the ASCS offices across the country.

The cattle owners who registered during the June 6-17 period will determine the fate of a proposed program to stimulate the beef market and make the non-producing citizen more aware of the advantages of beef and beef products in their daily meal planning.

It is estimated that $30-$40 million will be raised through the checkoff plan the first year, if voters approve in July, based on a collection rate of three-tenths of one percent of sales value of cattle entering the market.

That anticipated amount compares with the $4 million the beef industry is spending currently on promotion, education and nutrition research.

A total of 11 national organization, plus 10 national breed associations, 15 state beef councils and 45 state cattlemen's association have endorsed the proposal which will benefit all producers, small or large, in proportion to their involvement in cattle production.

If cattlemen approve the referendum, the program will be administered by a 68-man Beef Board with each state with 500,000 head or more entitled to a member and alternate on the board, plus one additional member for additional 2.5 million head of cattle.

Texas will have seven members on the board under the initial plan. An executive committee of 7-11 members will conduct routine business within the policies of the Beef Board.

Absentee forms, for voting in the referendum, are available on request at the ASCS office in Cameron.

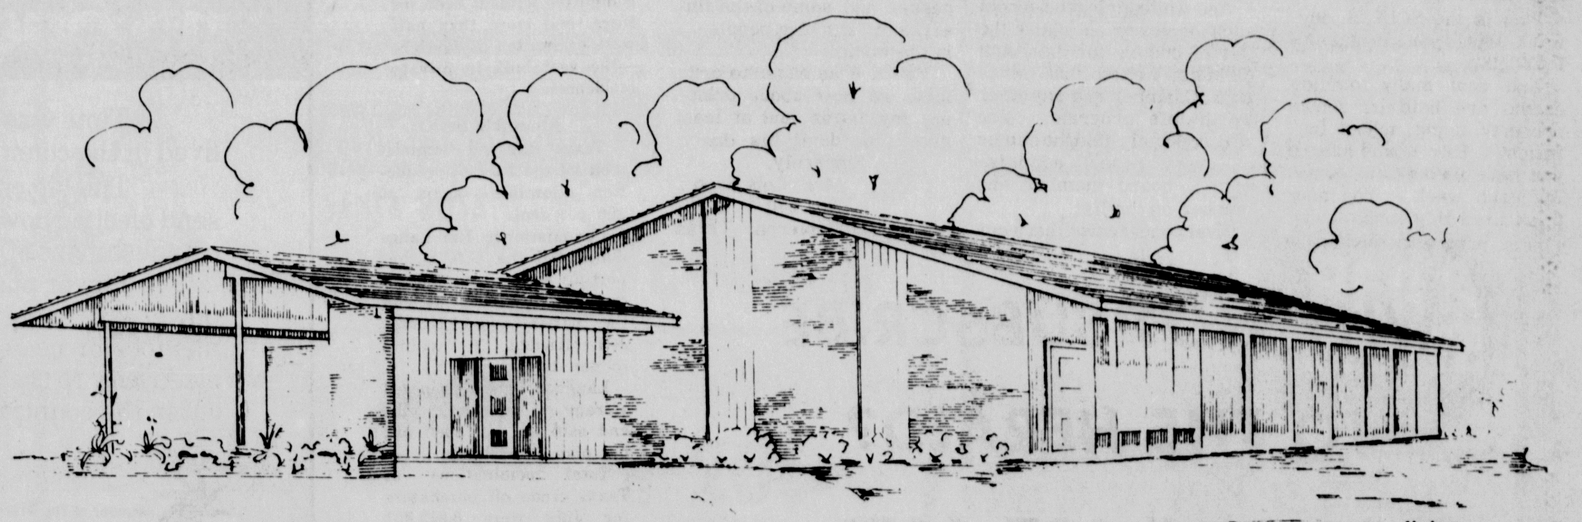
In order for the referendum to become effective, 50 percent of all persons registered must vote and two-thirds of those voting must favor passage.

Car Hits Train Near Rockdale

A Rockdale junior high teacher, Jimmy Perry, received only minor injuries Saturday afternoon when his auto struck a train four miles east of Rockdale on US 79.

Investigating DPS Trooper Jerry Benson said Perry tried to stop his car on a county road and slid into the side of the train's engine.

E.R. Jett of Frankston was engineer on the Missouri-Pacific 40-unit freight which was traveling west at the time of the accident.



PROPOSED CLUB - Cameron Country Club will be housed in a new building come next year, as construction is expected to start in September on the new facility. Cost of the new club will be around $90,000, and it will feature a ballroom, dining room, snack room, lounge, lockers, a bar, and office and kitchen facilities to serve the approximately 210 members.

The Fourth Estate

The role of the newspaper is often characterized as the fourth estate, which means it is outside the branches of government, but a voluntary element of government review.

Whatever level--national, state, local--has the three elements of judicial, representative and executive. City, school, county all share elements of this classic definition or separation of powers.

The county has justices of the peace and county judge, though not required to be lawyers, county commissioners and elected administrators or executive like county clerk, sheriff, treasurer-tax collector.

The City has city councilmen and mayor, a city judge, and executives like the mayor, various department heads, police chief.

The school district has an elected school board, an executive hired by the board and a reviewing agency in the equalization board, also named by the board, roughly the equivalent of a financial judiciary.

Anytime a member of the fourth estate holds office in any of these capacities, the function of news and comment is for the best of intentions and public service compromised, if only by implication.

So it is simply a policy of many newspapers and other media not to play two roles.

That is the position of The Cameron Herald. It has not always been. J.B. White was once mayor of Cameron 50 years ago. Some fourth estaters use the media as a base for election to state or even federal office.

It is not really possible to be an element of government subject to public review, even at the local level.

We trust in retrospect this policy is wise, positive and professional.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

June 20, 1977

Dear Mr. Luecke:

You continue to amaze me with your constant criticism of the Cameron Independent School in your editorials and "NOW" column.

It makes me wonder how the 'editor' of a newspaper could continually knock a school and at the same time never run for the school board so he could correct things.

How big you are at writing---how big are you at doing?

In your NOW column, dated June 20, you wrote about all the good fun programs in Cameron but again striking out at the school when you wrote "CISD must limp along its own sports program on new City tennis courts, and the city baseball diamond adjacent to City Airpark. And the schools until the late 60s were being asked to provide most of the recreation leadership."

Why is it so important to you that the School uses the City tennis courts and baseball field?-

Who is the SCHOOL anyway? Would you say us TAXPAYERS?

And how many 'outside' events are held on school property using school facilities? This tennis hangup you have seems to be growing each week. You may think about this, in the school tennis program which pays for the transportation, equipment, coaches salary and their substitutes in the classrooms while they are away?

For the record, the ballpark by Safeway, located on school land, was built by a group of men. Many of them were coaches, school board members and teachers. They knocked on businessmens doors to help raise financing after digging deep into their own pockets, no government money was available. They gave their sweat, time and money to give Cameron a place that for years served the Cameron youth. And yes, the girls teams and mens softball teams now play there, but some Pony League games are still played on the field as well.

The same amount of work was done on the Airport field. New faces joined the work force, but it was still coaches, teachers, school board members and interested citizens who did most of the planning and work. The public helped again with funds, as did the city.

And while giving the school such heck why not check the list of donors for the Youth building, United Fund, Museum, Chamber and any other worthwhile program. You will undoubtly find the names of every school administrator, board member and teacher on the list.

Everyone knows that your main complaint is that the School did not build YOUR tennis courts.

But again I saw a work force composed of a school administrator, coach and other interested citizens. They worked like fury to build a fine facility while another interested party saw fit to only bring them a 'soft drink'.

It was great that the City helped make all this possible. Others helped too, such as the Lions Clubs. Again a check of the membership will show the same men who are FOR Cameron progress. The local radio station made it possible for the Lions to make money to help with projects such as the tennis courts. Why not have the newspaper come through with some free advertising instead of charging for listing items for their auction?

A city where everyone works together can be great and we are fortunate that MOST people work for the betterment of all. We have a GREAT town. Good city government, good schools, good churches, good businesses and some of the finest, hard-working people in the world.

You are so eager to criticise so how about printing my letter and at least give the 'devil his due'

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lois Sapp

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

You've seen commercials for new cars on television. First the brand new car comes on, preferably with a movie star at the wheel or at least leaning against the hood, sometimes even singing if you want to call it that. Finally the price flashes on the screen: Only $5,000, or some such figure. But if you'll look close enough and fast enough you'll see in small letters: Excluding taxes, license, transportation and dealer prep.

That's the way the Alaska pipeline was swung, only the pipeline people beat the car people about 50 to 1 in using small type.

When the pipeline was launched, the builders estimated it'd cost 900 million dollars. When it was finished, the cost had soared to over 700 billion dollars.

In other words, it cost over 700 times more than they'd figured. This just shows what teaching kids New Math will do. We'd better get back to basics.

Changing the subject, I haven't read this anywhere but I believe science is approaching a major crisis. I mean, it may be running out of something to do.

In recent years scientists have found so many things that're harmful to human life, like saccharin, sword fish, tuna, tobacco, sugar, asbestos, lead, roach powder, dandelions, baby pajamas, and a lot of other things I've lost track of, that before long they're going to run out of something they can discover is dangerous. And if you can't discover something that's dangerous, how're you going to get your name in the paper? And if you can't get your name in the paper, how're you going to get a government grant to hunt up something else that's dangerous?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Briscoe To Call Legislators Back In July

Gov. Dolph Briscoe cleared his desk of legislation passed during the regular session and announced he will call lawmakers back to work July 11.

Briscoe settled on the early July date for a special session on the complex issue of public school finance which evaded all earlier efforts at solution.

"I think it should be possible to accomplish the work of the session in a week to 10 days," Briscoe said. "There is enough agreement that we should be able to work out a good school finance bill in a relatively short period of time . . . I am giving everybody an opportunity to plan around the (July 11) date."

House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby have indicated they favor the legislature's early passage of something similar to the conference committee report which died on final night of the regular session. The bill provided about $900 million in additional school aid.

Briscoe saved some of the most important bills until last. Among the last measures approved were consolidation of three major state water agencies, the "sunset bill" providing for phase-out of outmoded state agencies and the new medical malpractice act.

Crime Unpredictable

Total "index" crime doubled during the last four years, and may do so again 1977-1980.

City areas with 78 per cent of the population reported 78 per cent of the crime, but the violent crime rate is higher in rural areas.

The C.J.D. study also revealed these findings—

—Last year, a quarter billion dollars worth of property was reported stolen in the state.

—The typical murder victim was 20-35 years old and a white male. The typical person arrested in murder cases was the same age and also white male.

—Average take in robberies was $440. About 41 per cent of Texas robberies are solved.

—Nearly 20 percent of the 187,182 burglaries were committed without need for force, and more than half were committed in daylight —the vast bulk in private residences.

Allowable Set

Texas Railroad Commission set the July oil production allowable — again at 100 per cent.

Commissioner Jim Langdon noted the U.S. is importing 38 per cent of the crude oil it needs, but said the nation could become self-sufficient if "willing to pay the price."

Langdon also proposed storage of synthetic oils, and said he will spell out his plan in writing.

Total nominations of Texas crude oil purchasers for July were 3,915,851 barrels a day, a decrease of 26,543 barrels from this month.

AG Opinions

Bulk of a Mexia State School investigative report is not available to legislators or the public since it deals with personal medical records, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

—A telephone company is authorized to lay buried telephone lines within the right-of-way of a county road without the approval of the commissioners court. However, the company must place its lines in such manner as not to inconvenience the public in use of public roads.

—A county has no present authority to enact land use regulations for flood-prone areas unless it qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program of June 30, 1970.

—Political subdivisions which are self insurers under the Workmen's Compensation laws are liable for the gross premium tax on insurers.

—A soil and water conservation district may deposit its funds in interest-bearing accounts in a state or national bank, but it may not purchase certificates of deposit. Nor may it deposit its funds in a savings and loan association.

Courts Speak

The U.S. Supreme Court ordered an indefinite stay of execution for James Paul Burns, condemned Texas murderer, pending his appeal to the top court. Burns' stay by a state court would have run out June 24.

Short Snorts

Texas Water Development Board is monitoring cloud seeding operations in Castro, Swisher, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Bailey, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall and Lubbock counties.

A $200,000 community center and museum honoring the late former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson at Junction is being planned through a private solicitation of funds.

Texas oil and gas wells produced 663,043,946 mcf of gas in March 1977, down .19 per cent from field runs a year earlier.

Average calendar day allowable of Texas oil production as of June 15 totalled 3,607,813 barrels.

The Middle Colorado River Watershed Project covering 4.5 million acres of the Texas Colorado River basic mid-section has been named the nation's top special flood prevent project.

A Texas Aeronautics Commission hearing examiner has recommended that Chaparral Airlines, Inc. of Abilene be permitted to offer scheduled air passenger service between Abilene Municipal Airport and Dallas Love Field.

Oil and gas test drilling permit applications increased from 7,906 to 9,598 for the first five months of 1977.

Time was when electricity was only available in the city. People who lived in the country did without electric powered conveniences for a long time.

The big city owned electric companies considered it unprofitable to send electric power to the small rural areas. This prompted the establishment of member owned electric cooperatives.

Power plants and substations began to spring up and soon electric power was being sent to the most remote reaches of Texas. Thus your member-owned electric cooperative was born. And we're still sending electricity to the countryside so you can enjoy city conveniences . . . out in the country.

New Book Gets Reader Back To The Wilderness

By Lloyd Timberlake

LONDON Reuter - There is a new book just published designed to get you out of the back garden and into the Arctic wastes, the Arabian deserts of the Amazon jungles.

Assuming you have always wanted to go, "Expeditions: the Experts Way" (Faber and Faber, London) tells you what to take how to get there and how to avoid being frozen, scorched, steamed or bitten, once there.

The book consists of eight chapters, one each on exploring jungles, desert and artic regions, underwater explorations, ocean sailing, river and white-water trips and expeditions into caves and up mountains.

It is wonderful escapist literature.

While filled with such key facts as the speed of a camel's "casual walking pace" (2.2 MPH,), it also blends in the romanticism for which British explorers are renowned.

"After the hardness of the daytime heat and glare, I remember evenings when the dropping sun turned the desert into a paradise of calm, aglow with orange and yellow light, giving cool shadows, and producing an immense sense of well being," writes Lieutenant Colonel David Hall in his chapter on deserts.

"Bearings are taken under the blazing sun across the shimmering sea to distant mountain peaks almost lost in heavy haze," Dr. Christopher Roads writes in his chapter on underwater exploration.

The genius gehind the book seems to be Lieutenant Colonel John Blashford-Shell, who took a newspaper--sponsored expedition of rubber boats down the Zaire(Congo) River in 1974-75 and earlier led the first crossing by vehicles of Central America's swampy Darien Gap.

Colonel Blashford-Snell is a controveraial figure, whose most recent exploit was turning up in an armored car at a pond in Southern England. There he tried to blow up with high explosives a foot-long perch that had been eating a friend's prize goldfish. He failed.

His chapter on jungle expeditions contains tales of encounters with crocodiles, snakes, elephants, lions and ticks and some advice of questionable value:

--If Lost "I recommend that you avoid rushing blindly forward..."And

--"It may be that it is most suitable for your expedition to move by river with supplies coming in overland. However, you might equally well decide to move overland and bring your supplies in by river."

In his chapter on Polar Expeditions Wally Herbert, who has dog-sledged over 17,000 miles in icy regions, heaps scorn on most modern government-backed risk-free polar exploration, which he calls "the tax-payers expeditions."

He offers some cynical advice on how to finance and insure a private expedition, and the years of lectures and articles which will be required to pay off your debt.

He complains that if you run a careful, safe expedit- in your lectures and writings will "lack that vital ingredient --tragedy--without which there is little hope of climbing out of debt."

"Of course, for those who are prepared to improve their story by spicing it with a string of lies, and those who court disaster out of crass studidity or through some sick obsession to succeed at any cost, the result is a healthy balance sheet, but offset against this, presumably, is a certain loss of pride," he says.

There are two other chapters dealing with the logistics and health problems of an expedition.

There is also an appendix on kit and equipment which tells, you, among other tips, that you can probably buy your cooking pots locally and need not ship them out to the jumping off spot.

While the book's advice may be too broad to get you successfully to one of the poles, its charm lies in its "how to" format. It suggests that, someday, you might actually be leading a team through a Greenland blizzard.

Florida Bass Stocked In Twenty-Four Public Lakes

Some 3.5 million Florida bass have been stocked in 24 public lakes and reservoirs around the state this year.

Florida bass, stocked in selected Texas lakes since 1972, have proved their ability to inhabit and grow in the state's public waters.

Ongoing studies show that Florida bass grow faster than native largemouth, on the average live longer, and adapt and reproduce faster in large reservoirs common in Texas.

The ability of the Florida bass to adapt to Texas reservoirs in part explains why they will be stocked in such diverse geographic locations as Lake Bob Sandlin in East Texas and Twin Buttes Reservoir outside San Angelo in West Texas. Floridas also have been stocked as far north as Lake Texoma and as far south as Lake Amistad. Amistad received the most Florida bass, some 603,000 fingerlings.

Among other reservoirs that have been stocked this year are Bob Sandlin, 450,00; Brownwood, 365,000; Livingston, 250,330; Nachgdoches, 221,400; Texoma, 200,000; and Twin Buttes, 199,900.

Although still in the experimental stages, P&WD biologists say bass stockings in the eastern third of the state, where most of the reservoirs are located, have proven successful.

Studies also have shown that Florida bass are no more difficult to catch than native Texas bass, which has led to angler acceptance.

Currently, management plans call for the establishing of Florida bass populations in the 24 target reservoirs before expanding the stocking program to other lakes.

Delinquent Taxes To Halt Permits

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday that those few tavern and club owners who are delinquent on their sales taxes are going to be in for a big surprise when they attempt to renew their alcoholic beverage permits.

And they aren't going to like it one bit, Bullock warned.

"Unless they obtain a certificate from the Comptroller showing that their sales taxes are paid up, their permits aren't going to be renewed," Bullock said.

"Behold!" — it's not a word we use much today. Yet it occurs more than 150 times in the King James version of the Bible.

"Behold" means to see. But it suggests more than mere sight. In the Bible it usually implies spiritual awareness. Jesus often used it to urge his disciples to understand and respond to spiritual truths.

Today we say "Look!" instead of "Behold!" Although the word has changed, the meaning has not. We still need to be aware of God's love. We still need to grasp those mysteries of life that can often perplex us.

This Sunday enlarge your spiritual vision in church. Come and BEHOLD.

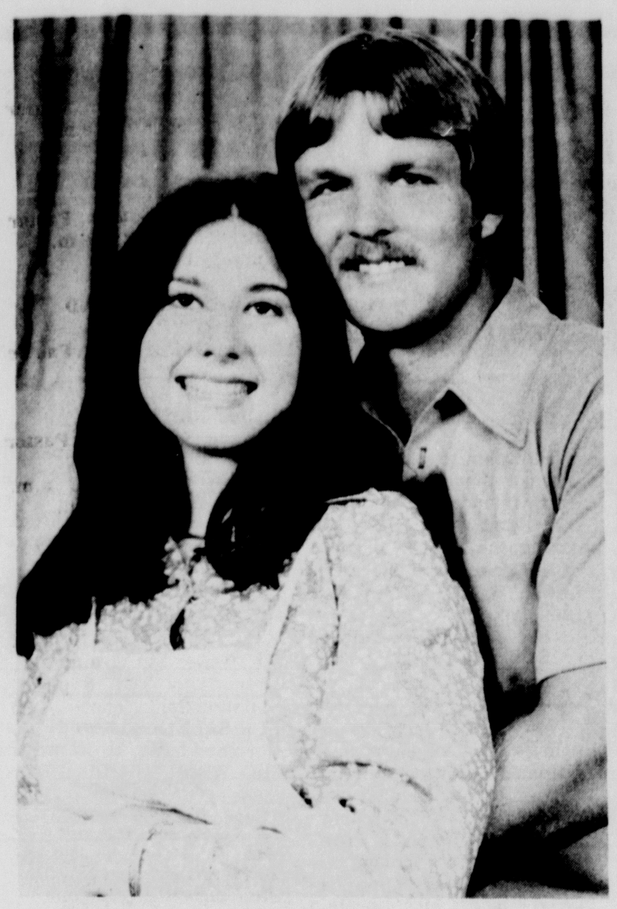
Happening about town

Gerry Prazak, Area Editor

Cameron . Texas, Herald, June 23, 1977 Page 7



TO WED - Mr. and Mrs. James E. (Gene) Luckey of Rockdale, formerly of Cameron, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patti to Myron Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schneider also of Rockdale. A family wedding is planned for the afternoon of August 7 at the Grace Lutheran Church in Rockdale.

CITY PARK was the scene Saturday evening for a "Blue Grass Jamboree" with country-western bands providing the music for easy listening. Spectators brought lawn chairs and didn't seem to mind the heat as they sat in the park.

COLLEGE NOTES

Elizabeth Shelander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy L. Shelander of Cameron, was listed on the 3.5 honor roll at North Texas State University.

Seven students from the Cameron area have earned "Distinguished Student" ranking at Texas A&M University.

They include Janet E. Burke, pre-medicine; Mary E. Hanel, accounting; Charles Hoelscher, mechanical engineering; Larry Olbrich, animal science; Daniel Richardson, accounting; Paul Vaculin, agronomy; and Lyn Willy, educational curriculum and instruction.

The undergraduate honor is awarded students who have earned at least a 3.25 grade point ratio during the most recent grading period.

ENGAGED - Mrs. Billy F. Collins of Ben Arnold announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Cathy, to Kenneth Halfmann son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Halfmann of Burlington. An August 27 wedding is planned at St. Luke's Catholic Church in Temple.

Summertime "kitchen escape" tatics are easy--and still allow for nutritious menus.

Following is a 10-point "kitchen escape" plan:

1) Prepare gelatin desserts--they're easy to prepare and to eat.

2) Use the outdoor grill for the entire meal including vegetables and breads.

3) Serve one-dish meals such as casseroles -- and round out the menu with a cool salad and packaged bread.

4) Plan menus that cook in the oven at one temperature--this eliminates the extra heat of surface burners.

5) If you have a microwave oven--use it!

6) Prepare your main dish in a slow cooker. Serve vegetables and salads that don't require cooking and last minute preparations.

7) Serve cold meat salads as a main dish for a change.

8) Do baking in the early part of the day while temperatures are still relatively cool.

9) Serve fresh fruits in season for dessert.

10) Eat out -- You deserve a break!

Four Boys To Attend SA Camp

Four boys from Cameron will be given a free, one week vacation this summer at the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas, according to John Homerstad, camp chairman.

Boys chosen to attend the camp are Curtis Taylor, Chester Walker, Monico Martinez and Frankie Joe Montez. They will leave for camp on June 26.

At the camp the boys will enjoy boating, hiking, archery, horseback riding, fishing, swimming, handcrafts, movies and baseball along with worship services and Bible study.

Homerstad said each boy's trip was financed by the Cameron Service Unit committee with donations from private citizens in the community.

The Salvation Army operates the camp for children and families who could not otherwise have the opportunity to enjoy camp life.

Travis Sets 18th Annual Homecoming

The 18th annual Travis School homecoming will be held at the Travis Community Center on June 28.

The classes of 1927 and 1952, and the family with the largest number of exes present will be honored.

Registration begins at 9:30 and a basket lunch will be served at 12:30.

Mrs. J.B. Sandlin of Travis is president and Mrs. Bill Adams of Rosebud is secretary.

Don't Let Mosquitoes Ruin Your Summer Fun

Mosquitoes have a way of turning up as uninvited guests -- at picnics and backyard cookouts, for instance.

But you don't have to let mosquitoes take all the fun out of your summer fun. There are some measures you can take to ward off their attacks, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, an experienced agency in this field.

Bountiful--and frequent--spring rains throughout most of Texas have left the state ripe for mosquito infestations in practically all areas. Perhaps you've already seen and felt evidence of a mosquito hatch in your own yards, or in a camping or picnic area.

It only takes a little standing water and some adult mosquitoes to bring on the pain, discomfort, aggravation and sometimes disease from the pesky insects.

Water in which to pass their early life stages is a necessity for mosquitoes. Adult flying mosquitoes frequently rest in grass, shrubbery or other foliage but they don't develop there. In walking through such areas you can run into a swarm of them, leading you to believe they hatch out there.

Some mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water where they hatch in a day or two. Other mosquitoes lay their eggs in old tires, tin cans, or other water-holding containers in which they may remain unhatched for weeks or months until they are covered with water.

With both types of mosquitoes, the wigglers or larvae grow quickly and turn into tumblers or pupae, Soon the skin of the tumbler splits open and out climbs another hungry mosquito--looking for you as its victim.

While mosquitoes are a threat to health and bodily comfort, there is something that you as an individual can do to ease the situation and lessen the job of local and regional health organizations and mosquito control units.

These could be called the Ten Commandments of Home Mosquito Control.

They are:

1. Empty, remove, cover or turn upside down any receptacle that will hold water--particularly old bottles and tin cans.
2. Change water and scrub vases holding flowers or cuttings twice each week--or grow cuttings in sand.
3. Discard old tires or store them indoors.
4. Screen rain barrels and openings to water tanks or cisterns.
5. Repair leaky plumbing and outside faucets. They may cause standing water in which mosquitoes can hatch.
6. Connect open wastewater drains to a sewage system, or construct separate sump or leach line.
7. Clean clogged roof gutters and drain flat roofs.
8. Fill holes in trees with sand, or mortar, or drain or spray them, as required.
9. Stock ornamental ponds with mosquito-eating fish.
10. Clean and drain evaporative coolers frequently.

Peaches Top List Of Plentifuls

Peaches and lake fish promise lower prices, eggs and turkeys are reasonable, and beef offers several specials, according to one report.

Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, summarizes this week's food buys as follows:

FRESH FRUITS--Peach prices coming down, while other good choices are pineapples, winter pears, bananas, grapefruit, oranges and lemons. Prices are more attractive on cantaloupes, watermelon and honeydew melons. High prices expected to lower later on seedless grapes, apricots, plums, cherries and nectarines.

FRESH VEGETABLES--Quality and economy appear on snap beans, corn, cucumbers, broccoli and sweet peppers--along with cabbage, carrots, summer squash, okra and eggplant. Green onions--at moderate prices--can replace more expensive "cooking" onions in menus.

POULTRY--Egg prices are exceptionally low, turkeys have reasonable prices, and fryer chickens are one of the best protein buys available.

BEEF--Check food ads this week for specials on cube and sirloin steaks, chuck cuts, corned beef, ground beef and liver.

PORK--Canned hams have moderate prices, slab bacon has economy prices--and frankfurters are meat bargains, although prices are a bit higher than last week. Pork liver has low prices.

FISH--More lake fish are available since the northern Canadian lakes are open for fishing. Be on the lookout for lower prices.

DAIRY--June is Dairy month--look for features on sour cream, cheddar cheese and lowfat milk.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES--Canned vegetables and fruit juices lead the grocery value "parade", with strawberry preserves, fruit cocktail and vegetable oil following.

CONSUMER WATCH WORDS: Hold food budgets down with an "eagle eye" watch for low prices--and the large supplies that usually mean low prices.

Bentsen Cites Critical Care Shortage

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Wednesday that a shortage of doctors makes the very existence of medical care a critical problem for rural America.

Bentsen, co-chairman of the Joint Economic Subcommittee on Economic Growth, presided Wednesday over a second day of hearings into the economic problems of rural America.

"Rural counties average less than 60 doctors per 100,000 people, compared to over 200 doctors in large cities." Bentsen said in his opening statement.

"In my own State of Texas we have 23 counties, at last count, without any physicians at all. We have 49 counties that have been designated 'critical health manpower shortage areas' by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

"While cities are ligitimately concerned about the quality of medical care, the overriding concern in many rural areas of this country is simply the existence of medical care," Bentsen said.

Bentsen also reviewed other problems afflicting rural Americans.

"There are 60 million Americans -- one quarter of the population of this country -- living in rural areas. These 60 million people have a medium family income that is $3,000 below that of their city cousins," the Senator said.

"These 60 million Americans own one-third of the homes in this country, but they have one-half of the substandard housing -- houses without plumbing or in a dilapidated condition."

"These 60 million Americans suffer a poverty rate that is 50 percent higher than the poverty rate in big cities," Bentsen said.

"The rural communities of our great country have been neglected far too long. For decades, they have failed to share in the growth of this country and it is time to reverse that. The continued balanced growth of our economy requires that rural Americans have a share," Senator Bentsen said.

Running rats

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — The patter of little feet coming from the Rat Room of the Exercise Physiology Lab at The University of Texas is helping researchers learn more about how exercise can protect the heart.

By inducing heart attacks (through drug injection) in sedentary rats and in rats which had run many miles on narrow treadmills, UT Austin researchers found that the running rats tended to live through a heart attack while the unexercised ones did not survive.

The studies also have shown that pregnant rats that swam produced babies with stronger hearts.

Yogurt, the loving spoonful!!!

Yogurt has been an important dairy food for thousands of years from Iceland to Africa, from Asia to Europe, from South America to Australia. But the western world really "discovered" yogurt in 1908 when the two bacterial cultures that cause fermentation and flavor development were identified. Surprisingly, it was not until 1940, that yogurt made its American debut. Today, yogurt has a firmly entrenched place in our diets. The appealing flavor and its low fat diet food image has made it a favorite.

Because it is made from concentrated milk, it provides calcium, phosphorous and water soluble vitamins. Yogurt is an excellent source of calcium and riboflavin. The nutritional and calorie content can vary from one manufacturer to another, depending on ingredients. (Check the carton for nutritional data—or write to the manufacturer). One 8 oz. cup of plain yogurt contains about 120-160 calories. Generally, fruit flavored varieties provide 240-260 calories because of the added sugars and fruits.
